PROCEEDINGS OF OUR DALY CITY COUNCIL MEET

All Members Present And Business Transacted Is Principally Routine

The Daly City Council met, Monday evening of this week, with Mayor Selmi presiding and all members present.

Only one bill was received for construction of the fire alarm system extension to the southern section of the City. Frank G. Linn submitted a bid of $3471. This being in excess of the amount of the bond issue approved by the electors at the bond election last year, the bid was rejected.

Some discussion was had as to the feasibility of installing the improvement by day labor, and this method may be adopted.

John E. Craig, electrician, 330 Woodrow street, submitted an application in the Daly City Fire Department. The application was ordered filed in regular order, and the city clerk ordered to communicate same to Company 3, in which district the applicant resides.

The board adopted a resolution fixing the location and boundaries of the precincts for the coming City election, on April 12. The election officials for the various precincts were also named and their salaries placed at $7.50 per day for each official.

A complaint was received from Mr. and Mrs. Evensen, of 50 Wilson street, stating much annoyance and in convenience is caused residents of the neighborhood by falling burned ashes and smoke emitted by a high chimney at the planing mill located in the vicinity. The council instructed Superintendent Bodien to investigate and report his findings to the council at its next meeting.

A permit was granted to Foster & Kleiser for erection of two billboards in Daly City.

FINAL DIVORCE DECREE GRANTED

Judge Warren V. Tryon, Monday of this week, granted a final decree of divorce at Redwood City to Jane Hatch of Burlingame from Harvey Hatch, son of Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch of Halfmoon Bay.

Grounds were extreme cruelty and incompatibility. The couple was married June 10, 1934, in Burlingame and separated February 15, 1936.

MANY DEATHS IN WORST STORM IN SOUTH HISTORY

Large Number of Homes And Buildings In Business Districts In All Sections Inundated.

Virtually isolated from the rest of the world, southern California suffered, this week, from the effects of swirling floods which swept through the lowland areas of fifty or more communities from Ventura to San Juan Capistrano and from the Sierra Madre Mountains to the ocean.

More than 20 persons were dead.

All railway lines were paralyzed. Airports were flooded. Bridges were torn away. Automobiles were unable to cross the raging torrents. Thousands of homes were demolished or inundated, and damages mounted into millions of dollars.

The streets of Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Santa Monica, Long Beach, Compton, Glendale, downtown Los Angeles and many other communities, appeared like Americanized Venices.

The intense adverse weather conditions disrupted communication and transportation between Los Angeles and San Francisco. After five days of the worst rains known to its sunny clime, the lower state area was the scene of floods, landslides and wash-outs.

The crowded Long Beach bridge succumbed and a landslide in Cajon Pass blocked the Santa Fe train near San Bernardino. The traffic of the Southern Pacific, too, was halted, as well as that of the Union Pacific.

Wilshire boulevard, Los Angeles, on which are located many of the city's highest class shops, most exclusive hotels and luxurious mansions, suffered along with less pretentious localities, with an ever mounting death toll.

Twelve thousand men were mobilized and set to work in aiding Red Cross officials, police and firemen in evacuating homes.

Daly City Theater Dinnerware Nights

Beginning next Monday night, March 7, the management of the Daly City Theater announces the opening of a very popular event which means good news for all the ladies attending this show house.

Ultra modern dinnerware, Coronada Colored Pottery, will be given to each lady attending on Monday nights. The set will consist of 52 pieces, or full service for eight. It is in all the colors of the rainbow—red, blue, green and yellow—and is the very last word in dinnerware. The entire set at retail prices would cost much more than the price of your admissions to the theater and it is given absolutely free, one piece to each lady with an adult paid admission ticket. By attending the Daly City Theater each Monday night you will receive the complete set of 52 pieces.

There is also something for all the kiddies, beginning with the Saturday matinee, March 12. On that date and for the rest of the month a Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen comedy will be shown each Saturday matinee and three free ventriloquist dolls with lessons on how to become a ventriloquist will be given as door prizes. These dolls look just like Charlie McCarthy and you can learn to make them talk, walk and do almost everything except eat. By attending the Saturday matinees you will see these special comedies and may win one of the ventriloquist dolls.

NEW W. P. A. BILL SIGNED THIS WEEK

Reports from Washington state that President Roosevelt, Wednesday of this week, signed the $250,000,000 works progress deficiency appropriation bill.

The speedy signature by the President will enable W. P. A. to place into immediate effect its program for increasing relief rolls to accommodate mounting numbers of idle workers.

Many Los Angeles Districts Inundated By Rainstorm

Although aquaplaning in us ally done with surf board and motorboat, this Los Angeles resident took advantage of the rains which flooded the streets in many districts in that city. Storms sweeping inland from the Pacific Ocean brought 4.40 inches of rain to Los Angeles bringing the total rainfall for the season up to 15.07 inches, only .04 short of the total for the entire season last year. One death was reported indirectly due to the rain. W. E. Strong, 68, died near Colton, Cal., from overexertion trying to free his mired automobile.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR CITY

(By MAYOR SELMI)

Last week, I told you of the basic improvements necessary to the development of our city. You, naturally, want to know how we plan to raise funds for these improvements without changing the tax rate.

My first thought in arriving at a solution of this financial problem was to think of how and where a portion of present city expenditures could be saved.

One of our greatest expenditures involves the pumping plant of our water department. A survey of our plant was made by pump experts and they found, that with several changes in our pumping equipment, the plant on Niantic avenue could be made more efficient. This improvement made possible the closing of the obsolete plant on Mission street at the county line.

This change effected the following results: Power bills for the month of September, 1933, totaled $1147.07; for the same month of the year, 1937, it was $315.82, effecting a net savings of $331.25. This comparison shows that we have saved over $3000 per year of our expenditures, which amount will carry us a long way toward developing our recreational centers.

Our water department is a very profitable municipal utility and has made possible the low tax rate which we now enjoy. I strongly advocate a continuous and gradual expansion of our water system. Your city is in the business of selling water and, as I have stated, makes for you a substantial profit, so it is good business to expand this utility to further increase our revenues and make possible a program of civic developments.

Another source of finance that we developed and that did not exist before to an appreciable extent was the establishing of a motorcycle traffic patrol to curtail traffic violations. This patrol had a twofold result to the benefit of our city. First, it does minimize traffic accidents and hazards to pedestrians. Second, funds derived from fines have increased, as for example: in the year 1935 to 1936 total traffic fines amounted to $638.

In the year 1936 to 1937 they increased to $3272.50. This shows an increase of $2584.50 in revenues for that department alone.

These illustrations are only examples of many ways, by which additional revenues for improvements can be had without changing the tax rate and further burdening the taxpayer.

These ideas can only be put into practice, when they are supported by a majority vote of the Board of Councilmen. Councilmen Sundermann and Twisten have subscribed to the fullest in support of this type of city administration and therefore I repeat that Selmi, Sundermann and Twisten have a PROGRAM FOR PROGRESS.

AGRICULTURAL PAVILION TO GET AID OF COUNTY

Board Of Supervisors Will Support Movement To Complete Project

At its meeting, Tuesday of this week, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors voted support of the movement to complete the Visitation livestock pavilion in time for the 1939 exposition by adopting a resolution requesting Governor Merriam to include in his call for a special session of the legislature the subject of a $500,000 state contribution to the cow palace.

In connection with this matter the board also renewed its demand for an accounting of the $50,000 that this county appropriated for the project several years ago. Former Supervisor T. J. Hickey, to whom the request was directed, promised a report on how the money was spent.

Hickey told the board that to date, approximately $1,563,000 has been spent on the cow palace, and that administration has cost only $7500. He said the pavilion is a public edifice "that will last, you might say, for all time."

JUNIPERO SERRA HIGHWAY PLANS ARE COMPLETED

San Mateo County Supervisor James S. James announced, this week, that final plans, specifications and surveys on Northern California's $2,800,000 Junipero Serra highway will be completed this week and work on rights of way for unfinished portion of the huge thoroughfare from the San Mateo-San Francisco county line will start within two months.

James stated revision of right of way plans will be necessary as a result of adoption of a 240-foot cross section. Cost of acquiring the necessary land will run higher as a result of the divided highway.

When completed Junipero Serra boulevard will be the most picturesque in this section of the country, Supervisor James said.

At present members of Joint District Highway No. 10, consisting of Andrew J. Gallagher, chairman; Supervisor James S. James of San Mateo County, and Supervisor Alfred Roncoviari of San Francisco, are considering a proposal to construct a 125-foot width roadway.

Adopted are plans calling for a 25-foot traffic separation strip in the

PROTEST PAROLE FOR MURDERER

The application of William Haney for parole from his life term in Folsom has been unfavorably recommended by the office of the San Mateo County district attorney.

District Attorney Gilbert D. Farrell advised the State Board of Prison Terms that the crime for which he was sentenced appeared to be such a cold blooded one that no mercy is warranted.

Haney and a companion, one Red Christiansen, killed a San Francisco taxi cab driver named Albert Redington Jr. at Colma and made away

LET CONTRACT FOR ADDITION TO OUR LIBRARY

Two Bids Submitted To Council And Lowest Receives Award For Work

SPELLS MORE PROGRESS

The Daly City Council at its regular meeting, Monday evening of this week, opened two bids for construction of the addition to the City library.

One was submitted by Munson Bros., and was for $4750. The other was submitted by H. H. Smith and called for an expenditure of $4171.

Considerable discussion ensued as to whether sufficient money was available in the library fund to meet the expense of the improvement, claims as to the amount being at variance. It was eventually decided there would be sufficient money available to make necessary payment.

The chairman of the library committee, Councilman Sundermann, stated that the sum needed to pay for plans and supervision would be approximately $292.

A motion later prevailed, by unanimous vote of the council members, to award the contract to H. H. Smith, the bid submitted by his firm being the lowest received.

Mayor Selmi was authorized to execute a contract covering this award so proceedings may begin at once.

Thus one more step has been taken to secure culmination of another long needed and sought for improvement for our City. The new addition will accommodate more of our citizens and will add greatly to the facilities, convenience and comfort of all patrons of the library, as well as improving efficiency of service to the public.

WOMAN RESCUED FROM DEATH IN NEAR TRAGEDY

Resort Owner Saves Victim From Drowning At Shelter Cove

In a near tragedy at Shelter Cove, last Sunday afternoon, George Lewis, who operates the resort at that place, rescued a woman, whose name was not ascertained, from drowning.

It is said by witnesses that the woman swam out beyond her depth and, carried by the tide, was several hundred feet off shore when her cries attracted the attention of those on the beach.

Lewis plunged into the surf and, after a battle with the waves, brought her, unconscious, to safety.

Meanwhile a son of Lewis had telephoned the Villa Hospital at Daly City with a request for a respirator. He was told to rush the woman to the hospital, and the "iron lung" recently installed was prepared. State traffic officers were asked to furnish an escort to speed the woman on her way.

However, when they reached Shelter Cove the woman had been revived by artificial respiration and had been taken home.

In making the rescue Lewis was considerably cut and bruised by encounters with jagged rocks.

DALY CITY MAN DROWNS AT BEACH

Raymond Trimmer, 34, of 406 Niantic avenue, Daly City, was drowned, Saturday afternoon of last week, while fishing at Salada Beach. While his 5 year old son watched from the top of a nearby cliff, Trimmer slipped off a rocky ledge below into the heavy surf.

The victim was heavily clothed and had no chance against the battering waves. His fall occurred a few minutes after he had climbed down the 400 foot cliff.

Coast Guardsmen, who were summoned from San Francisco, were compelled to use ropes to descend the cliff in attempting a rescue. The body has not yet been recovered.

Students Receiving Aid Have Proven Themselves To Be Worthy Of The Money Loaned Them

Life membership as one of the numerous projects of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc., is proving invaluable to the state as a means of promoting better citizenry. It aims to give scholarships to deserving students who lack money to continue their education in colleges or universities as well as to honor the individual upon whom this is bestowed for his service and loyalty to the ideals of the organization.

A life membership in the California Congress may be purchased by an individual or a unit for the sum of twenty-five dollars. Despite the fact that such a membership is honorary only and does not carry voting privileges, more than 1850 memberships, it is reported, have been sold through the state within the ten year period the department was established.

Upon application, a student found to be worthy, may borrow not more than $150 yearly with a maximum of $600 over a period of four years. This loan bears no interest but students on completion of their course and the commencement of employment are expected to repay the loan within three years.

The number of students in San Mateo County assisted by this scholarship fund was given as eleven. These students have shown unusual ability and in most cases are outstanding in their school activities.

Seventeenth District received a silver cup as a reward for purchasing more scholarships per unit than any other county in California.

Mrs. Julia V. Jordan, Crocker; Mrs. Ann Eason, General Pershing, and Mrs. Truman Bentley, Jefferson Union High School are life members from Daly City. Besides, there are twenty other honorary memberships from various parts of San Mateo County.

GUEST SPEAKER IN ADDRESS TO HIGH STUDENTS

Reviews Matters Pertaining To Founding And Growth Of "Old San Francisco"

Mr. Charles Dobie, famous author and short story writer, was the guest speaker at an assembly held last Thursday at Jefferson Union High School.

The subject of Mr. Dobie's address was "Old San Francisco." He stated that the founding of San Francisco was rather unique. In 1775, a man known as Anza opened a trail from Arizona into the San Diego country. There had been a few Missions established in California and getting supplies to them was very precarious.

Anza first blazed the trail to get supplies through to the Missions. After he had done this he was ordered by the Viceroy of Spain to proceed to San Francisco and establish a settlement there.

In October, 1775, 255 men, women, and children began a trek across the wilderness and later founded San Francisco. They started to build the Presidio first. The first Mission in San Francisco was finished in 1776, and they had a grand fiesta to celebrate its completion.

Mr. Dobie expressed the opinion that Anza and Moraga had not received the recognition they deserved for their part in the founding of San Francisco.

NOTES ON OUR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Conservation Week Exhibit Is Planned

Students and teachers of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary school have become extremely conscious of continued conservation. Realizing the disaster that will result from exploitation of resources, animal and human life, a lengthy unit of work has been under way in the school. Every class has been preparing for the end result which will terminate in an extensive exhibit in the hall of the school building during the week of March 7 to 14, which is California Conservation Week.

Not only will the exhibit display and impress conservation of natural resources, but conservation of human life as stressed in the hygiene classes. Students in these classes will display graphs, charts and pictures of man's scientific fight against disease and its result on health through the ages, as well as the need for safety education. Preserving the gems in literature as found in the present trend of modern educational practice will also be another phase of the program. Open and closed seasons for various species of fish as well as a balanced aquarium, which will show how nature is in balance, will be a unique part of the display.

Attractive posters and other art work will lend color and interest to the exhibit. Specimens mounted by the children have helped to impress the interdependence of all levels of nature in preserving the balance of life and thus lending to conservation. An assembly will be held next week when representatives pupils will report to the student body the various phases and far reaching definition of the term "conservation."

Visit Mills Field

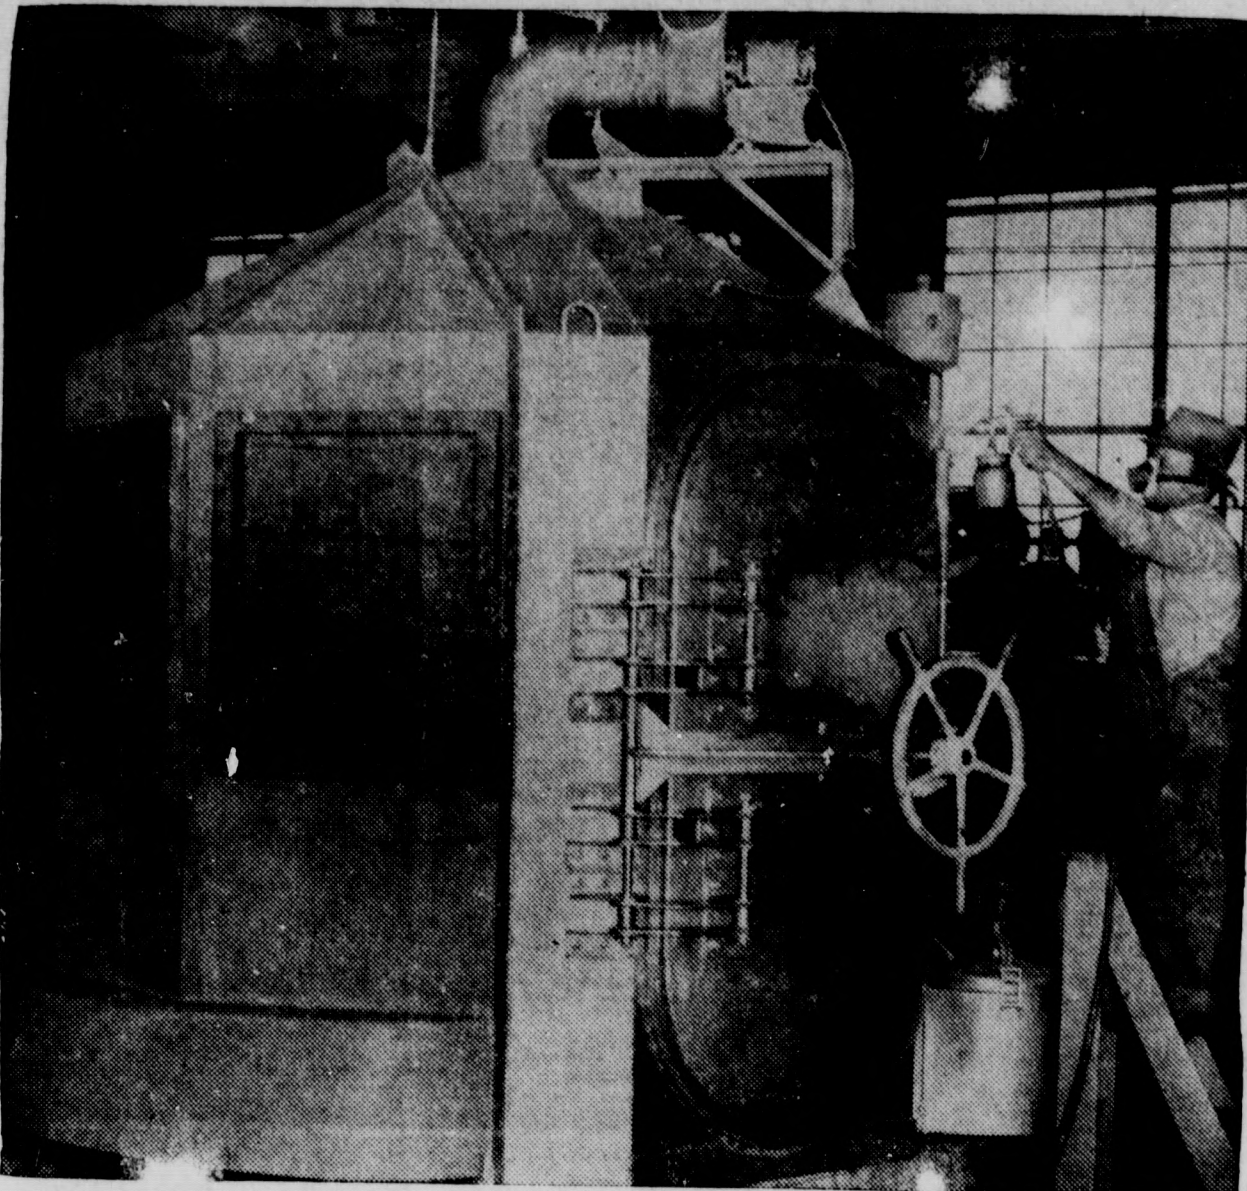

Friday morning Miss Irene Smith, assisted by three mothers, took the Jefferson Kindergarten Class to Mills Field. The children watched the airplanes land and take off. They visited the hangar and looked at the interior of a United Air liner. The purpose of this trip was to have the children get a general idea of the construction of a hangar and airplane. The building of an airplane and hangar is one phase of the kindergarten unit of air transportation.

Sketch Characters From Literature

Realizing the opportunity given to them, Ruth Larson, a low eighth grade pupil, has expressed the thought of her class in saying that they are very fortunate to have a radio in their school. To encourage and to stimulate the reading of better literature the pupils of the high seventh and low eighth grades of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary school, under the guidance of Miss Varni, have the advantage of listening to a program entitled "Great Moments from Literature." This program is sponsored by the Alameda city schools.

Excerpts from well known books such as "The Count of Monte Cristo," "David Harum" and "David Garrick" have thus far been dramatized. During the broadcast each pupil sketches

California's Lethal Chamber Is Ready For Placement

Ready to be installed, this ultra-modern death chamber is pictured as a workman adds the finishing touches before shipment from Denver, Colo., to San Quentin prison, in California. Requiring only fifteen seconds to execute a condemned prisoner, the new lethal chamber will replace the gallows. Two persons can be put to death at once while witnesses may peer through the windows on the sides. With electric blowers, acrid fumes of cyanide gas will be cleared from the chamber, allowing guards to remove a body within two minutes after the gas begins to fill the room. America's first lethal gas execution was performed in Carson City, Nev., state prison in 1921.

his interpretation of character portrayal. "We not only enjoy the program, but feel that we can express our creative ideas with much freedom," quotes Mary Rossohoff, a student enjoying these programs.

Children Inspect Ferry Postoffice

On Friday afternoon the fifth grade of Jefferson School, with their teacher, visited the Ferry postoffice in San Francisco.

Before going to the postoffice, the children were taken to the Ferry Building to see the relief maps of California and the bay region.

At the Postoffice Building the group was taken to the fourth floor. They proceeded from there to the various departments which handled first, second, third and fourth class mail and parcel post matter. They saw how mail was cancelled and routed to the various mail bags, going to all parts of the world.

A postoffice clerk explained the universal system and the arrangements our country has made with other countries in regard to mail charges.

The children's eyes bulged when they saw so many foreign stamps, as they are all stamp collectors. The Nixie File caused much laughter and impressed on all the wisdom of carefully and accurately addressing letters.

This trip was most interesting, as well as instructive, and gave the children a much better understanding of this tremendous branch of our government service.

Royalty Dealers Listed For Investors—An alphabetical list of brokers and dealers has been compiled by the Security and Exchange Commission to protect investors. The registered dealers and brokers have indicated in their registry applications that they sell fractional oil, gas or mineral royalties, or any other fractional undivided interests in oil, gas and mineral rights. Copies may be had without charge by writing to my office.

Reserve For Army—The administration is sponsoring a bill proposing restoration of the regular army reserve with an anticipated strength of 75,000 within a period of five years.

Industries Aided—The government will undertake to analyze difficulties and apply cures, for three industries at present not faring so well. Agriculture, bituminous coal and railroads are the industries that are hoping the government will lend a hand. The first of these finds itself with a great deal of unrestricted competition. It produces basic raw materials and still remains poor. The remedy is control over production and marketing. Bituminous coal also suffers from competition. Even as coal is one of the country's basic resources, it is an industry that is nearing bankruptcy. The government has applied several remedies, but none seem to have been very effective, and will attempt a new program. Railroads are still a problem, they have always been one. Competition continues to play havoc with them. Price fixing was applied but did little good, so a new cure is in store for them. Tighter controls and maybe government ownership may be the result.

Truck Limit—Truck size and weight may be limited by a state. Such a power was upheld by the Supreme Court on February 14. Despite the fact that such contentions interfere with interstate commerce, the court ruled that the state has power to impose such regulations in the interests of highway safety and of conservation of the roads. Such a decision may greatly affect the trucking industry, as it may have to remodel its huge trucks; and by doing so, may be forced to give back to railroads much of the traffic lost by them to motor carriers.

Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace said he considers the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 one of the most significant pieces of farm legislation ever enacted. "First of all," the secretary said, "the new Adjustment Act strengthens and continues the AAA soil conservation program, and keeps the farm program open to participation by farmers in every part of the United States. In the second place, the new act makes possible a good beginning toward setting up a workable ever normal granary for the benefit of both farmers and consumers. The ever normal granary features of the act will give consumers greater protection than they have ever had before. Finally, the act gives added protection to farm income, with provision especially adapted to assist producers of five basic commodities: Corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco and rice. The new act is built upon the experience which led to the original Agricultural Adjustment Act, plus all the experience that has been gained since then in administering national farm programs."

Home Financing—A total of more than $665,000,000 has been loaned for home financing purposes by federal savings and loan associations during the more than four years of their existence.

Rise in Public Relief—Costs of public relief in December continued the rise recorded for the two preceding months. Total federal, state and local costs incurred for aid to the needy in December, including earnings under the Works Program, amounted to $194,000,000,000, an increase of about $12,000,000 over the total for November.

Trade Routes—Consolidation of two steamship services and the realignment of trade routes in the program to improve and expand American flag shipping services to Caribbean and Central American ports was announced by the United States Maritime Commission.

The Dairy Situation—Dairy production is increasing. Total milk production on February 1 was about three per cent larger than a year earlier and the highest for that date since 1934. The number of cows on farms is about the same as a year ago, but they are giving slightly more milk per cow.

Wheat Exports Largest In Six Years—A complete change has taken place in the wheat situation in the United States as compared with a year ago. With a surplus of wheat in this country, the United States has returned to its position as a wheat exporter. Preliminary estimates indicate that total exports of wheat and flour from July 1, 1937, to January 31, 1938, amounted to the equivalent of about 50,000,000 bushels of wheat, mainly to Belgium, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom.

Eight Ways To Lessen Highway Hazards—Practically all highway accidents result from a combination of causes, and they can be avoided only by definite action on many fronts, according to the Bureau of Public Roads. As a result of extensive investigation of many phases of the safety problem the following eight point program has been proposed: Uniform state motor vehicle traffic laws; skilled investigation of traffic accidents; the establishment of a uniform system of accident reporting; the establishment of an adequate highway patrol including the official inspection of vehicles; the establishment of complete and final

Boy, 12, Kidnaped, Held For Ransom

Peter Levine, 12, son of a New York lawyer, who is held by kidnapers for $60,000 ransom. The boy vanished mysteriously several days before his father made a frantic public appeal begging the abductors to contact him. Police and government agents are standing aside while negotiations are carried on, but a ransom note reportedly found under a rock by the boy's mother is the only clue to his whereabouts. An investigator said the ransom note had been written on a cheap dial typewriter similar to those sold as toys for children.

DIFFERENCE IN LAWS

It is said that there are now approximately two million laws—national, state and local—in effect in the United States. The Israelites under Moses got along with only ten, some of which are not observed to any great extent at the present time.

authority over the issuance and revocation of drivers' licenses; a highway improvement program divided into two general classes of projects—those of the emergency type, and those for long time plan; a plan of state and federal safety organization adequate to secure on a wide scale the adoption and enforcement of the action program here proposed; a national educational program.

TROOP NO. 141 and CUB PACK NO. 141

Meets Thursdays 7 to 9 p. m. at Nazarene Church, Vista and Santa Barbara

(Scout Angelo Ditty, Troop Rep.)

The Waterdog Patrol met, Tuesday evening of this week, and among other activities initiated a former cub, Kenneth Claussen, into the mysteries of Scouting. Kennie was a good sport and proved that he could "take it." The patrol discussed participation in the coming Festival of Youth and decided to add metal work to the other craft projects being worked up for the event.

Donald Laston had his picture taken recently. It is for our troop photo record and several newcomers in the troop are due to go and do likewise.

A troop merit badge library is being established with Don as librarian. This service will help greatly in making available various pamphlets on merit badge subjects. There are more than a hundred such booklets and we have a pretty good start towards acquiring the entire collection.

The Scout and Cub Mothers Club is continuing to show interest in their work of making articles for the Festival of Youth. Many and varied are the novelties developed by our industrious maters. More power to them!

A number of fathers are getting interested in making gadgets and whatnots for sale at the Festival of Youth. Every week brings disclosures of added interest in this affair, which promises to be the biggest and best thing ever undertaken in our town for the benefit of the youngsters.

A new honor system contest has begun in our troop to run for the remainder of the charter year. A substantial prize is being offered by a friend of the troop to the Scout making the most progress during that period.

W. F. Davis, an ex-soldier of Jacksonville, Fla., makes his living going from house to house painting mail boxes at a nickle apiece.

MASCOTS

Soloman was a white rooster and was destined for the dumping pot at the winter camp of a local Boy Scout troop. However, as is oftentimes the case, many a bird or beast by making friends with its owners has stayed life for a while at least.

"He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly," reads the Scout Law. There was plenty of other food in camp, so Soloman was maneuvered around the dumping pot to become the troop mascot.

It fell to "yours truly" to care for this bird which had so much to crow about and all went well until a new location was contemplated. The place selected was no place for a chicken and the case of dumpings or what came up again. Reluctantly the boys bowed to the inevitable and on Washington's Birthday Soloman, the mascot, was served out piecemeal.

This narrative might end abruptly right here but for the fact that Lion Cub Wallace Nielsen was a guest on that hike. On returning home he mentioned that Soloman, the mascot, had been eaten for dinner.

"What's that?" perked up Jimmy, his little brother. "You ate the mascot!" It so happens that Jimmy is mascot of Cub Pack 141, hence the interest in the fate of Soloman.

Having been assured that there are no cannibals in the pack, Jimmy has consented to continue in his present capacity, but it took considerable diplomacy to convince him that all was well.

SUPREME CONTEMPT!

Speaking of the differences between Presidents and Supreme Court justices, the New York Times recalls the animosity which Thomas Jefferson held toward Justice William Cushing, at whose death Jefferson wrote: "I observe old Cushing is dead. At length then we have a chance of getting a majority in the supreme judiciary."

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN NATION CAPITAL

"Little Miss Muffet Had The Right Idea," Say Department Of Agriculture Experts

(By Hart Goodrich)

"Little Miss Muffet sat on a tuffett, eating of curds and whey—" and "whey not?" (if you will pardon a pun), asks the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture at the department's exhibit here.

More than four million pounds of whey are produced each year in the United States as a by-product of the cheese industry and the Agriculture Department is distressed because, despite its exceptional nutritive properties, whey is largely wasted at the present or only fed to animals.

The Bureau of Animal Industry has studied whey from many angles and discovered it contains milk sugar, soluble proteins and vitamin G. What it doesn't contain is casein, and this is important because the casein in milk is what makes milk coagulate in highly acid foods. Experts suggest for this reason that it should be used with fruit whips or tomato juice or vegetable soup.

This exhibit shows in an interesting manner what each bureau in the government's largest department is doing for the farmer and you and me.

The arrangers of the exhibit have utilized statements by President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace, George Washington, Daniel Webster and Ralph Waldo Emerson to emphasize the importance of land in the economy of any people, even in such an industrialized society as ours.

Daniel Webster cautioned: "Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man."

In one corner is an exhibition of a miniature cotton gin at work pulling the seeds from the cotton fiber. And if you have been wondering what to do with the artichokes the dinner guest mistrusted and failed to eat, you can learn at the exhibit that from artichokes comes good building board.

Furthermore, corn stalks make wallboard and wheat straw can be turned into insulating board. Sugar cane waste becomes soundproof board—if you know how to go about it.

The Weather Bureau exhibit includes a clinometer, which is a fat instrument shaped somewhat like a revolver. It is used by the Weather Bureau magicians to determine the

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

"As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God." These words from Romans comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, March 6, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Man." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Rom. 8: 5, 6).

The following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "We know no more of man as the true divine image and likeness than we know of God. . . . Even though you aver that the material senses are indispensable to man's existence or entity, you must change the human concept of life, and must at length know yourself spiritually and scientifically" (pp. 258, 359).

AMAZING MAN IS ARE INDUCTED PORTRAYED BY INTO FEDERATION MYSTERY PLAY OF SCHOLARSHIP

Depiction Unfolds One Of
Most Startling Theories
Of Crime

An amazing man, a physician, "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," 55, trod the boards of the Alcazar Theater, Monday night of this week, and for more than two hours held spellbound an audience that filled every seat in the house as he unfolded one of the most startling theories of crime and criminals in the annals of mystery plays on the American stage.

What the audience had seen and heard, at times, seemed preposterous until probably on second thought it occurred to one what scientists and scientific detectives are doing today and have done in making the business of crime hard to get away with. Dr. Clitterhouse, a reputable doctor of medicine in London made a scientific study of crime and criminals—up to a certain point. That certain point is up to the audience to determine. At any rate his theories, as viewed by Barre Lyndon who authored the piece, are interesting, not preposterous, logical and the basis psychologically of all present day crime prevention and apprehension theories as practiced by the best schools.

Max West was excellent as Dr. Clitterhouse; Ruth Andersen, equally so as his office assistant. Among others who distinguished themselves in this unusually entertaining play were J. Raymond Northcutt, Robert Clarke, Alice Bartlett, Maurice Hugo, Mario Scarpa, Frank Bolger and Jack Vallee. "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse" is due for a brief run only. It will make way in two weeks for Elmer Rice's "Judgment Day," another New York success.

SHOOTING CAUSE IS STILL MYSTERY

A coroner's jury at San Bruno, on Tuesday of this week, rendered a verdict of murder and suicide in the deaths of Mrs. Mildred Cornell, 27, and Dr. F. Holmes Smith, prominent San Bruno physician.

Testimony at the hearing failed to reveal the motive that prompted Mrs. Cornell to shoot the physician in his office on February 19 and then end her own life.

However, evidence was adduced supporting the theory that her act was due to mental derangement due to rigorous efforts to reduce by taking excessive quantities of thyroid tablets.

Ten New Members Are Initiated In Honor Society
At High School

Members of the Jefferson Union High School honor society met recently for the purpose of initiating new members into Chapter 194 of the California Scholarship Federation.

At this meeting ten new members were formally initiated by the older members of the society. President Joe Nicoletti read the oath of the federation and each member repeated after him the promise to strive to maintain a high scholastic standing and to work for the betterment of the organization and Jefferson Union High School.

The new members were then called on to perform various individual stunts which proved very amusing to onlookers, but rather embarrassing to them.

This term the organization has reached a new high in membership for it now has twenty-three students enrolled, ten of whom are new members. The new members follow: Barbara Foreman, Marian Franzen, Rosemary Loney, Edward McIntosh, Ane Mjehovich, Maren Nelson, Edith Shiffman, Mary Smith, Evelyn Taylor and Mary Yonan.

Life membership in this society may be gained by a student being a member of the organization for three out of four years. This is an honor which few receive and this year only one student proved eligible for life membership. This student was Florine Capurro, who was presented her life membership pin at a recent assembly at the high school by the C. S. F. advisor, Miss Dorothy Staib.

CONSERVING EVERY DROP

A northern farm hand went to work for a Texas rancher. There had been a long drought, and every man on the ranch was hoping for rain. One day it started to sprinkle, and the farm hand, to show his delight, began to dance in the rain.

"Hey, you," shouted the ranch owner, "come in out of the rain!"

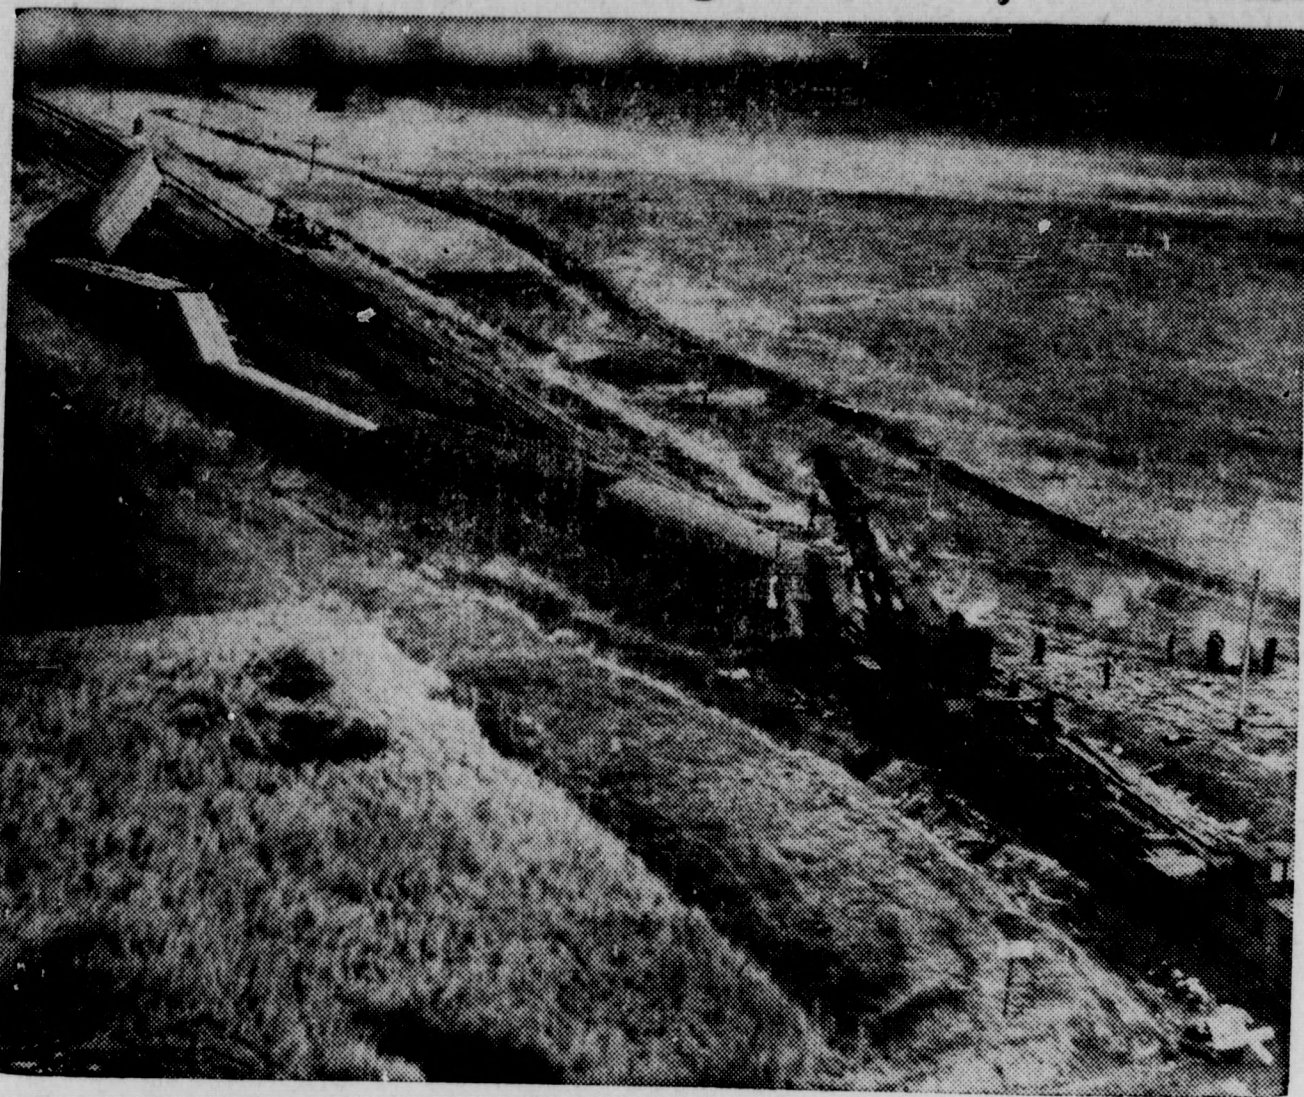

"Oh, I don't mind it a bit," called back the farm hand.

"That isn't the point," insisted the rancher. "I want every drop of that water to fall on Texas."

GOING AND COMING!

During a storm off the English coast a huge wave washed Jim Costa, a sailor, overboard, and shortly afterward another swept him back on deck. Aside from a severe fright and the loss of his false teeth he was unharmed by his experience.

Six Persons Injured As Chicago Bound Flyer Overtakes

Six persons were injured recently when the Golden State Limited of the Rock Island Line overturned near Trenton, Mo. The crack flyer was bound for Chicago from Los Angeles when it was derailed. Officials of the line blamed a broken rail for the wreck. Photo shows a wrecking car righting the coaches and setting them back on the tracks.

FIVE INJURED IN HIGHWAY CRASH NEAR BRISBANE

Machine Smacked In Attempt To Drive Through Intersection At Brisbane

Five persons were injured, last Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, when John E. Lundt, aged 25, of San Francisco, attempted to drive out onto the Bayshore highway at its intersection at Brisbane. His machine was struck broadside by one driven by Frederick D. Michaels, 23, a medical student at Stanford University, who resides in Menlo Park.

Lundt and May Nelson, 18, also of San Francisco, received internal injuries. Less seriously hurt were George Thomas, 23, and Ilene Clausen, 19, both of San Francisco, and Michaels. The two girls and Thomas were riding in the car with Lundt, it was reported by state traffic officers.

TERM PLAY IS JAYSEE ACTIVITY

San Mateo Junior College drama students will present "Stage Door," by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, as the term play production May 6 and 7. The students selected the play recently and are now starting tryouts and rehearsals under Miss Ada Beveridge, drama instructor.

Al Newlove, Santa Cruz student, has been elected vice president of the student body for this term. Willie Silva, Sequoia High student, will serve as men's club president. Debating is starting an active semester at the college. A number of the students interested in that activity went to a student congress at the University of California to discuss all phases of several important topics of the day.

The Northern California Junior College Association will hold its meeting at Sacramento, April 30. Many San Mateo Jaysee instructors will attend.

M. B. Gray, 80, of New Lebanon, Ill., recently inserted this ad in a rural Illinois newspaper: "For Sale—the village of New Lebanon, consisting of four houses and a store with four living rooms. Price $8000."

JEFFERSON HIGH TRACKSTERS WIN

Friday of last week, in their first track meet of the 1938 season, the Jefferson teams defeated the George Washington High School tracksters. There proved to be many up and coming prospects in the Indian variety and the lightweight division. For instance, little Frank Ford took first place in both the 130 and 120 high jump with a leap of five feet. Jack Clifton heaved the shot 37 feet 10 inches to take first place in the 120 shot put. Les Volkman took the 110 high jump easily with a leap of five feet 1 inch. Other lightweights showed up well.

Following is a list of Indian unlimiteds who placed in the events: 100 yard dash, Wright (2), Fontana (3); 220 yard, Fontana (2), Wright (3); Non Santo (2), Currier (3); 880 yard, Olson (1); mile, Olson (1); broad jump, Wright (1), Simpson (2), Fontana (3); shot put, Balletto (1), Ghidella (2); discus, Balletto (1), Smith (3); pole vault, Parker and Lemos tie for first; high jump, Lemos (1), Balletto (2); 120 high hurdles, Parker (2), Lemos (3); 220 low hurdles, Parker (2).

Festival Of Youth Advertising Starts

Daly City has been divided up into fifteen zones, each to be serviced by two boys or two girls, in the distribution of publicity material for this event which is scheduled for Saturday, April 23.

The first of a series of bulletins will be a letter to the public of our community describing in detail the Credit Tokens which will be sold for the purpose of permitting people to vote for the festival queen and allowing for personal contact advertising. These tokens will sell for ten cents each and will be redeemed at full value in trade at the festival. The letters will go out next Saturday.

Mrs. L. Lemon, Girl Scout Lieutenant and Publicity Director for the festival, together with her staff is planning and turning out advertising material at a rapid rate. Their watchword is: "Look for the green bulletins each week 'til the festival.'"

MUSIC SOOTHES SAVAGE BREASTS

Farmer Joe Bryan of Portland, Ind., has a radio in his big barn, and if he gets soft instrumental music, he said, the cows keep happy. Sheep and horses like the music, too, he has discovered.

Farmer Joe's neighbors smile when he tells how the radio helps him in his milking, but his wife is a loyal supporter of the idea, as she recently had to do the milking while her husband was exhibiting his sheep at a fair. She reports that the cows were restless and kept stamping their feet, until finally she thought to turn on the radio. Then they gave forth a low "moo" and the milking was finished in peace.

It has also been observed that the animals do not enjoy coloraturas. A woman's voice singing makes them nervous, but give them the smooth sweet strains of an orchestra and how they give milk.

"TIN FISH" AT DALY CITY THEATER

Attention aplenty for Doris Weston in "Submarine D-1." The ardent admirers are Sailors Wayne Morris and Pat O'Brien.

"TIN FISH" HERO OF FINE FILM AT LOCAL THEATER

Making a picture with a "tin fish" as the hero of the story, and the players as more or less incidental, requires a lot of technical business that the average audience will never appreciate but which it would miss if it wasn't there.

"Submarine D-1" which opens at the Daly City Theater, starting Sunday, March 6, for a three day run, is that type of a production and the word "type" isn't used to put it in a class with any other picture ever filmed. For it is unique in the respect that the Dolphin, or "D-1," as it is officially known, is a real personality and turns out to be the hero of the piece.

Any service picture dealing with Uncle Sam's forces on land or sea requires a lot of phenegeling on the part of the studio management.

First, the story, after careful working over in the studio with expert advisors sitting in to tell the scribblers just what they can do and what they can't do, has to be submitted to Washington. In the case of "Submarine D-1," a Warner Bros. melodrama, it went first to the Navy Department for general once-overing and then to New London, Conn., where most of our submarines are made, for a careful check by the experts who know just what they want to hide.

With these things out of the way, the entire company went to San Diego Calif., Naval Base and for more than three weeks went to sea daily on submarines, cruisers, rescue tugs and whatnots. Even though official permission had been obtained from Washington, extreme care had to be taken in actual shooting, as the officers at San Diego were instructed to co-operate only to the point where it didn't interfere with regular routine duties.

After all these advance weeks of preparation, you may bet your bottom dollar that no one stepped out of line for a moment so long as the Navy was the boss. At the studio, "innards" of the "D-1" were duplicated, with changes which don't interfere with the action, but which would certainly confuse any foreign nation that thought in this way to swipe Uncle Sam's latest sub plans.

It is against the law in Delaware to permit cattle to graze between the curb and the building line of any street.
